Blueant Wireless launches versatile bluetooth speakerphone

Compact, portable and with no installation necessary, the new Supertooth is the most convenient way to use your Bluetooth mobile phone - in the car, office or at home.

Innovative mobile communication hardware provider Blueant Wireless has today launched the Supertooth, the first of a series of Bluetooth solutions set to change the way we communicate on the move.

Providing totally wireless Bluetooth functionality with DSP and noise cancelling microphone technology, the Supertooth offers exceptional sound quality and value. With an inbuilt rechargeable lithium ion battery, the Supertooth affords up to an amazing 15 hours talk time and up to 600 hours standby time. The kit can be fully charged by the AC wall charger input in less than 90 minutes.

For use in the vehicle the Supertooth is attached to the sun visor of the vehicle in less than 5 seconds. The dual sided magnetic clip mount allows for this handsfree to be both easily transferred from vehicle to vehicle, and for the sun visor to be in the up or down position whilst driving. The lightweight Supertooth (130g) is portable enough to travel with you to the home or office. The noise cancelling microphone and internal digital sound processor (DSP) ensure optimum call clarity.

"The Supertooth is the first in a series of Bluetooth solutions to be launched by Blueant Wireless," says Managing Director Michael Good. "Our research suggests that when it comes to Bluetooth people are looking for solutions that are not restrictive and work without the need for either installation or configuration each time they are going to be used. When a person gets back into the vehicle the Supertooth connects to the mobile phone", he said.

The Supertooth supports all of the features of your phone designed to make communicating on the move safer including voice activation, one touch dialling and automatic answer. The product is backed by a 24 month hardware warranty.
